DENTON COUNTY COURT HOUSE, DENTON, TEX.

The Denton County Court House, a fine example of the architecture of the early times, is a landmark in the history of the county. It was built in 1882, and has since that time been the center of the county's judicial and administrative life. The building is a two-story structure, with a central tower and a series of windows that give it a distinctive appearance. It is surrounded by a well-kept lawn, and a street with horse-drawn carriages in front of it. The Denton County Court House is a testament to the progress and development of the county, and a source of pride for its people.
